INNOVATION IN ACTION

We invest in innovations that make a difference to patients around the world. This year, we spent $2.3 billion on research and development. Currently, we're running 277 clinical studies to test new products and therapies. And in response to the COVID-19 pandemic, we increased our focus on virtual and remote innovation. This meant we could help reduce the risk of exposure to the virus for patients and healthcare providers.

As we launch new products and therapies, we train thousands of healthcare providers through our global network of Innovation Centers, enabling them to effectively improve how they serve their patients. In FY20 alone, more than 26,000 healthcare professionals attended our Innovation Center programs.
