

Introducing

#MedtronicEmpowered

A new community designed to support your patients.

Ready to empower your patients?

"My Medtronic
therapy has allowed
me to continue doing
the things I love."
— Christine, Medtronic
Patient Ambassador

Why #MedtronicEmpowered?

Bladder and bowel challenges aren't always easy for patients to talk about.

But they don't need to face their journey alone.

The #MedtronicEmpowered community is all about connecting people who can relate. When patients share their stories, they can break down stigmas and empower one another.

How can I help?

You play a pivotal role in your patients' lives.

By introducing them to the #MedtronicEmpowered community, you can help your patients:

- Understand bladder and bowel challenges
- Learn about treatment options
- Connect with a Patient Ambassador
